Bus Company Has Two New Vehicles; Seat 34 Persons

New Additions to Local Transportation Fleet; Body 'Floats' Are Feature

Two modern city-type parlor coaches arrived at the garage of the Kingston City Transportation Corporation Tuesday evening, it was announced today.

Built by the famous Twin Coach company, the two new buses are of up-to-the-minute design and are capable of seating 34 passengers comfortably.

Painted yellow with silver striping and black lettering, the buses are equipped with entrance and exit doors on the right front corner and midway along the right side. An emergency exit is placed on the left side of the bus. Destination signs are located above the front door and across the front of the bus, the latter being flanked with streamlined marker lights.

The interior of the buses are finished in cream and green with red leather seats so arranged that a maximum of room is afforded all passengers. Five heaters will furnish heat throughout the buses which are larger than any of the present equipment operated by the company.

The operator of the bus is treated to something new in the elimination of a shifting lever, as the controls are equipped with an automatic shift. Air brakes and air-operated doors also make for ease of operation, and a special safety device featured on the new equipment is a cut-off which will not allow the bus to move until there is 75 pounds of air pressure available for working the brakes. Air conditioning is incorporated in the design of the buses, and modern methods of floating the body give extra riding comfort over rough roads.

The buses are powered by 6-cylinder motors which are located midway underneath the body, and according to an official of the (Continued on Page Two)

55 Placed in Jobs Here During Last 5 Months; Week Dedicated to Cause

The Kingston office of the United States Employment Service will take an active part in the national "Employ the Handicapped Week" October 6-12, District Manager George J. Stanton, said today.

Although the local office keeps a permanent file of job applications by handicapped workers, efforts will be intensified to place such workers during the national week, Mr. Stanton said.

At present there are 182 disabled persons registered at the Kingston U.S.E.S. office. Mr. Stanton pointed out that approximately 90 percent of the workers have disability not likely to seriously interfere with their ability to produce a good day's work.

A total of 55 handicapped workers have been placed on jobs during the last five months. The number represented 47 per cent of the total registered. Only 32 per cent of non-handicapped workers accepted jobs to which they were referred by the U.S.E.S. office.

The state average for placement of handicapped or disabled workers during that period was only 3.3 per cent compared to Kingston's record of 13 per cent.

Behind Movement

"Employ the Handicapped Week" is sponsored by the United States Department of Labor assisted by a so-called Interagency Committee consisting of the United States Employment Service, Department of Agriculture, Federal Security Agency, Department of Commerce, Civil Service Commission and the Veterans Administration. Also assisting are the Disabled American Veterans and the American Federation for the Physically Handicapped.

28 Million in Class

The Department of Labor figures show that nearly 28 million Americans have some physical disability. A quarter of a million physically handicapped veterans are without jobs and registered with the U.S.E.S. Two and a half million Americans, veterans and non-veterans, have some physical handicaps which interfere with their getting and holding suitable jobs.

In making an appeal to U.S.E.S. offices and other employment agencies to redouble their efforts to secure jobs for handicapped or disabled workers, Secretary of Labor Schwelb said: "The disabled man is not a 'handicapped worker' when he is properly placed. He is steady, more careful and less inclined to absenteeism; and he generally turns out equal or superior work."

New England Is Warmer

Boston, Oct. 2 (AP)—New England gradually warmed up today after the season's first snowfalls in mountain areas and the weather bureau promised sunny, comfortable temperatures throughout the region tomorrow. Strong winds during the night prevented frosts that threatened crops still in the fields of northern New Hampshire and Vermont. Temperatures were well above freezing in those sections and throughout the Cape Cod cranberry bogs. Crop damage was negligible.

Appel Complains To Council, Cites 'Lack of Courtesy'

Mayor, He Says, Has Not Answered His Letters About Cannons at City Hall

During World War 2, the Civil War cannons that stood on the lawn in front of the city hall since 1907, were donated to the War Scrap Drive. The cannons had been presented to the city on June 28, 1898, by the late Sol Appel of Abel street, a member of General Grant Post, Grand Army of the Republic.

Last night at the meeting of the Common Council a communication addressed to President John J. Schwenk, and written by Paul Appel, a grandson of Sol Appel, was read.

Mr. Appel wrote that he had addressed two letters to Mayor W. F. Edelmuth suggesting that the city obtain two field pieces used in World War 2, to replace the Civil War cannons.

He said in his communication that he had not had "the courtesy of a reply from the mayor to the letters. 'I feel the lack of courtesy is inexcusable particularly in view of the nature of the subject of my letters.'"

Mr. Appel wrote he had investigated the matter of securing the two field pieces and that they (Continued on Page Five)

Amato Proposes $650 Salary for Local Aldermen

Alderman Joseph Amato, the Democratic representative of the Fifth ward in the Common Council, at Tuesday's meeting introduced a resolution that the pay of the aldermen be increased from the present $350 to $650 a year.

The resolution did not mention any increase in the salary of the president of the council, Alderman-at-large John J. Schwenk.

Without comment from the council the resolution was referred by President Schwenk to the laws and rules committee.

Army Air Force Will Try For Attack on Speed Mark

Washington, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Army Air Forces, its distance record snatched away by the navy, readied two jet planes today for a double attack on the British-held world speed mark.

A two-engine patrol plane, the Lockheed P-2V Neptune, took the distance honors with a flight of 11,236 miles from near Perth, Australia, to Columbus, Ohio, in 55 hours and 15 minutes.

The trip was to have ended either at Washington or Bermuda—11,600 and 12,200 miles, respectively—but headwinds and fluttering fuel gauges led Cmdr. Thomas D. Davies of Cleveland to play it safe. The Columbus landing yesterday added 3,320 miles or 42 per cent to the world record set by the A.A.F. B-29 "Dreamboat" last November 20 in flying from Guam to Washington.

The "Dreamboat" has been standing by at Honolulu awaiting good weather over the polar region for a projected flight of 10,200 miles to Cairo, Egypt. Although originally planned as a distance record flight as well as a study of polar flying, the B-29 effort is not expected to include an attempt to exceed the new navy mark.

The A.A.F. shot at the 616 mile an hour speed record will be fired with a Lockheed P-80 Shooting Star and the newer Republic P-84 Thunderjet. The attempts probably will be made late this week at Muroc, Calif.

Davies and his three navy associates, Cmdr. Eugene P. Rankin and Walter S. Reid and Lieut. Cmdr. Roy H. Tabelling, were decorated with the Distinguished Flying Cross by Navy Secretary Forrestal immediately after they reached Washington late yesterday afternoon as passengers in a marine transport plane.

The record-setting plane, named "The Turtle" in recognition of plodding persistence, followed by a minute with two other navy fliers at the controls.

Execution Details Are Arranged

Guards Are Redoubled Around Ancient Courthouse; Freed Stay in Jail Have Three Days

Those Sentenced Get Until Saturday for Appeals

Nuernberg, Germany, Oct. 2 (AP)—Lawyers for the 11 condemned German war criminals disclosed today they planned to appeal to the Allied Control Council to change the death sentences from hanging to shooting if all other pleas for clemency failed.

The last court of resort for Hermann Goering, Joachim von Ribbentrop and the others from the ignominy of the hangman's rope was formed of the four Allied generals sitting in Berlin as occupation authorities for the four zones of Germany. A twelfth German, Martin Bormann, was sentenced in absentia to be hanged.

As attorneys drew their petitions, the four power commission representing the Allied Council held an all day session on arrangements and details for the executions October 16 in Nuernberg, one of the festival cities of the Nazi party. They talked also of transporting seven of the war criminals to Berlin to start their prison terms.

A redoubled force of American soldier guards surrounded the ancient courthouse and jail where the convicted men were held, and they had orders to shoot to kill on provocation.

All three men acquitted in the history-making international trial, who were making planning aggressive war as a supreme crime, were remained in jail overnight. They had no other place to go immediately. Hjalmar Schacht, the truculent former finance minister, planned to remain in jail at least another night, saying he had no money, ration card nor home.

Asks for Visa

Franz von Papen, asked for a visa to the French zone, in which he has two castles near the Rhine. Hans Fritzsche may have to return to the Russian zone, whence he came for trial as a prisoner of war.

German lawyers for Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel and Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl, both relegated to the gallows, led the legal staff in making appeals for clemency, and for shooting rather than the rope if mercy is denied.

The doomed militarists were reported making a special request for a firing squad, which they considered a more honorable death for a soldier.

A lawyer for Fritz Sauckel, condemned labor leader, attached to his application for commutation hundreds of letters from Germans. Other attorneys said they were obtaining similar documents to bolster their appeals.

Four delegates — representing Britain, France, Russia and the United States, and appointed by the Allied Control Council in Berlin to work out details for the executions — met in secret today in the deserted court room where for 10 months Nazism's leading figures were tried on war crimes charges.

It's Really Cold

Not Only That, but Kids Get Day Off From School at Malone

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP)—Near-freezing cold gripped northern New York today in the wake of the season's first snowstorm which buried Canadian border sections under a foot of snow.

Schools remained closed at Malone, apparently hardest hit by the storm which abated last night after reaching blizzard-like fury, cutting off power and gas and disrupting communications facilities. Power and gas were only partially restored this morning.

Malone recorded 35 degrees above zero this morning and Canton, in St. Lawrence county, 34.

New York Pastor Chosen by Bishop As Superintendent

The Rev. B. F. Tarr Will Take Up His Duties Over Methodists October 15

The Rev. Burton F. Tarr, former chaplain in the U. S. Army, at present pastor of St. Stephens Methodist Church, New York, was named Tuesday by Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, presiding bishop of the New York Area, as superintendent of the Kingston District of the Methodist Church. The appointment will be effective October 15.

The new District Superintendent succeeds the Rev. Dr. John Pemberton, Jr., who came to Kingston last May as successor to the Rev. Dr. Arthur G. Carroll, whose term had expired and who became pastor of the Washington Street Church, Poughkeepsie.

The Rev. Mr. Tarr was stationed in the St. John's River Conference, Florida, in 1933-34 and came to the New York Conference in 1935, as pastor of the Claryville and Copake Churches. In 1936 he was Professor at the Philander Smith College, Little Rock, Ark. He was pastor of the East Branch, Harvard and Fish's Eddy Churches in 1937 and from 1938 to '42 of the First Church, Beacon. In 1943 he became a chaplain in the U. S. Army and following his discharge has been stationed at St. Stephens Church in New York city.

The Rev. Dr. Pemberton, who with his family leaves Kingston October 16, has accepted a call to become pastor of the Cape May, N. J. He has at times served the church there for 10 years or more as guest preacher and has had repeated invitations to become its pastor. Dr. Pemberton has a farm about two and a half miles from the church. In addition his ministry before coming here was in New Jersey, where he was widely known and held numerous positions of importance.

Dr. Pemberton said this morning that it was with great regret he left the Kingston area, which he had come to love and in which he and his family had experienced nothing but kindness and the finest of hospitality, and had made a host of friends. He feels, however, that the opportunity offered to him by the Cape May people is one that he is not justified in turning down.

Stamps IN THE NEWS

Three South American countries—Venezuela, Chile and Colombia—have issued stamps this year in tribute to Andres Bello, Venezuelan statesman, educator and writer. In each case the stamps mark the 80th anniversary last year of his death in 1865.

Bello, born at Caracas in 1781, served all three nations as secretary to their legations in London from 1810 to 1829. Later he settled in Santiago, Chile, where he aided in founding the national university. Chile previously honored him by picturing him on a stamp (Scott's 229) of its 1942 University of Chile centenary set. The Venezuelan stamps are 20 centimos blue postage and 30-cent green airmail. Chile issued 40-centos and 1.80 pesos stamps bearing his portrait. Colombia's set consists of four stamps.

At the same time as the Bello stamps appeared, Venezuela also issued stamps of the same denominations and colors picturing General Rafael Urdaneta, its president in 1830-31, to mark the 100th anniversary, also in 1945, of his death.

The influence that the late President Roosevelt had on postal matters and stamp collecting through his own personal interest in philately continues to be recognized more than a year after his death.

From Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, comes word that the Fifth Postal Union Congress of the Americas and Spain, in session there during September, honored Mr. Roosevelt posthumously by electing him an honorary president of the Congress.

The Post Office Department is currently providing numerous "first flight" services as new air mail routes are opened and new innovations such as "flying mail," on which mail is sorted in flight, are tested. Unfortunately, little advance notice is given for these special cachet flights. Cover collectors' best source for information concerning such flights are the Postal Bulletins, sent to all post offices for display. Even then, some collectors may find the announcements too late to send a cover on such a flight.

Collectors of stamps picturing sports will want to add a new Russian adhesive to their collection. The new 30 kopecks green was issued in honor of the "All Russian Parade of the Physical Culturalists," according to J. and H. Stolow of New York.

It pictures a parade of athletes with the leader bearing the Soviet banner, followed by a group holding aloft a medalion portrait of Premier Stalin and massed flags of various organizations.

Syria has overprinted four of its stamps to mark the Eighth Arab Medical Congress held in August. Five postage and four airmail stamps from Mexico commemorate the 400th anniversary of the founding of the city of Zacatecas. Canadians expect postal rates changes as a result of the reduction in United States airmail rates. Speculators foresee changes in the entire postal rate schedule, because the new Canadian Reconstruction Issue does not include new stamps for the one to five-cent denominations.

The Navy will apply special rubber stamp supply markings to letters mailed aboard six vessels as part of its Navy Day observance Oct. 27. The vessels will be the battleship Missouri, the aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, the cruiser Augusta, the destroyer Frank Knox, the submarine Flying Fish and the amphibious force flagship, Taconic. Each cachet will be different in design.

Collectors desiring the special cachets may mail addressed, stamped envelopes for mailing on any or all six vessels to the Director of Public Information, Navy Department, Washington 25, D. C., by Oct. 15. At least three inches of clear space to the left of the address is required for the cachet.

Weinstein to Make Appeal for Help In Milk Shortage

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—City Health Commissioner Israel Weinstein says he will appeal to C. J. Blanford, administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area, to "do everything in his power" to order more fluid milk shipped here to relieve a growing shortage.

Weinstein made the announcement yesterday at a public hearing on New York's milk situation. Earlier, he said that further increases in retail milk prices may be expected, in addition to the one-cent-per-quart rise now in effect, "if present conditions are permitted to continue."

Weinstein's announcement of his intention to appeal to Blanford came after one of the participants in the hearing said the recent amendment to the federal-state marketing orders permitted the administrator to order up to 100 per cent of all milk produced in the New York shed to be shipped to market as fluid milk.

Blanford Not Available

Blanford was not available for comment but an aide said the law permitted the administrator—but did not require him—to hold a public hearing within three days after the application and then allowed him to order more fluid milk as his judgment dictated.

The fluid milk shortage in the 100,000 quarts daily and was largely due to the lack of glass and paper containers resulting from the trucking strike. He declared, however, that the shortage would grow worse during the slack season in the next three or four months.

Principal Reasons

Principal reasons for the "long range" shortage, Weinstein added, are the "raiding" of the New York milkshed by higher-bidding dealers in Massachusetts, New Jersey and Connecticut and the diversion of fluid milk to manufacturing uses returning greater profits.

Weinstein said among remedial suggestions received, but which he said had not been advocated by the health department, were opening the milkshed to western milk and cream, priorities for family needs, and temporary removal of the ban on the sale of loose milk.

Private Care for Local Veterans With Disabilities

Local veterans with service connected disabilities may now get private medical care.

Authorizations for approximately 1,300 war injured veterans to receive medical treatment and care under the provisions of the recently inaugurated New York State Medical Service Plan are now being made by the Albany Regional Office of the Veterans Administration. It was announced today by Charles C. Adams, regional manager.

Dr. Warren M. Pettengill, chief medical officer, announced that the first authorizations, allowing veterans with service incurred injuries to select their own physicians, were processed in his office today. "By putting this plan into effect, the Veterans Administration and the New York State Medical Society are bringing to the veteran medical service of the finest kind," Dr. Pettengill said.

Medical authorizations, which are normally forwarded to the Veterans Administration's designated doctors, now are being sent to all veterans receiving out-patient care. These authorizations can be used by veterans to continue medical treatment with their present physicians, or to obtain treatment from any doctor of their choice.

Veterans with service-connected injuries or illnesses in need of medical treatment are eligible to apply for authorization for medical treatment. Requests should be addressed to the chief medical officer, Albany Regional Office, Veterans Administration, Watervliet Arsenal, Albany, New York. Once the veteran is authorized to choose his own physician who uses the authorization form as his bill to the Veterans Administration.

Veterans who wish to change physicians at any time are permitted to apply for a new medical authorization form, which will enable them to visit any doctor of their choice. Most practicing physicians are considered eligible for treating veterans under this new plan.

Dr. Pettengill said that one especially good feature of the plan is the new schedule for various kinds of medical treatment. For example, home visits which used to be $3, have been raised to $4 a visit. Office visits have been increased from $2 to $3. In addition, special fees have been announced for specialists, as well as medical treatment previously unavailable to veterans. These include shock therapy and allergy investigations. Released by the local Veterans Administration office. For further information contact 286 Fair street or telephone 1174.

U. S. Has Best Navy in World But Its Men Lack Training

By CLARKE BEACH

Washington, Oct. 2 (AP)—"We have the best prepared navy in the world," said the man with admiral's stars on his shoulder boards, making a wry smile.

"But compared to what we had a year ago, it's terrible."

The weak point, said the admiral, whose job entails knowing all about the navy, is personnel—their distribution and their lack of training.

"Our men are scattered all around the world," he said. "We have 200 in Exeter, England, looking after a naval establishment which will be closed as soon as possible. We have hundreds of men ashore in Italy disposing of surplus property."

"There are 500 to 600 of them in Bremen, Germany, looking after the former German ships. There are dozens of cases like that all around the globe."

In addition, about 40,000 officers and men are assigned to the laid-up reserve fleet—greasing, dehydrating and in other ways preserving the ships which will be required to maintain those ships.

Short of Technicians

Most of the navy's personnel, said the admiral, have inadequate training. Many of the good men have been demobilized, and a large percentage of the present complement is new and untrained. The most serious shortage is in technical men, chiefly electronics technicians' mates.

"But we are building up," the officer said. "We'll be in pretty good shape in another six months. It will take us a year to be fully straightened out."

Both the navy and marine corps feel good about one thing: All personnel now are volunteers.

The navy's strength in August was 642,170, and the marine corps had 112,360—close to their peacetime goal. At the war's end the navy had 3,408,347 men, including 483,833 marines.

Depending on Reserves

In case of a sudden emergency the navy, like the army, is depending heavily on its reserve force. The organized reserves, which will be kept in constant training and combat conditions, will be immediately available.

There will be 200,000 officers and men augmenting the regular navy. These will be sufficient to man the active and ready reserve fleets at full war strength. In peacetime the active fleet is manned at 70 per cent of war strength, the reserve at 30 per cent.

Units of the organized Reserve have been activated in all 48 states and in Hawaii, and the program is to bring them to full strength by July 1, 1947. All units of the marine corps organized reserve, whose quota is 32,400 ground and aviation personnel, also have been activated.

All former naval aviators, if the organized reserve or not, are permitted to fly at naval bases, and 18,000 of them are flying each week, according to Rear Adm. John E. Gingrich, director of reserves. Thus a large percentage of the navy and marine corps' aviators will be in practice until age disqualifies them.

2,817 Surplus Ships

As for the great fleet of 5,928 ships which the navy had on V-J Day, 2,817 have been declared surplus.

In the active fleet at present are 1,268 major and minor vessels. In the ready reserve are fifty ships. In the laid-up reserve are 1,763. Of these latter, 85 per cent have reported in, and more than half have gone through the processes designed to preserve them. The aircraft of the navy and marine corps, which at war's end totaled 29,583, now number 9,059.

Rapid replacement with newer types has been retarded by the government's recent economy measures.

Lawyers to Ask Death by Shooting

or until the death sentences imposed yesterday by the International Military Tribunal are carried out on the gallows. Defense attorneys were busy preparing appeals.

Here in the enclosure of the old courthouse of this city, which stood as a major symbol of Nazi power in the days of Adolf Hitler, the Fuehrer's teammates of war, making days—Hermann Goering, Joachim von Ribbentrop, Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, Ernst Kaltenbrunner, Hans Frank, Wilhelm Frick, Alfred Rosenberg, Julius Streicher, Fritz Sauckel, Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl, and Arthur Seyss-Inquart—will be hanged on October 16, unless the Allied Control Council in Berlin overrules the tribunal.

There appeared to be little likelihood of such a reversal at the hands of the four-power group, but some of the condemned men apparently clung to a bare shred of hope—that they might be shot, and thus spared the disgrace of the rope.

Have Until Saturday

A spokesman for the council said in Berlin that the condemned men would have until midnight Saturday to file their appeals and that such appeals would be "acted upon speedily."

The other seven convicts, who drew prison terms ranging from 10 years to life, will serve their time in a four-power jail in Berlin, the name of which was not disclosed "for security reasons." For the same reason, no announcement was made as to when those men—Rudolf Hess, Walther Funk, Erich Raeder (all life terms), Baldur von Schirach, Albert Speer (20 years each), Constantin von Neurath (15 years) and Karl Doenitz (10 years)—would be taken to Berlin.

Martin Bormann, the 22nd defendant, was sentenced to hang, but he was tried in absentia and is believed dead.

The prison gates swung open for Hjalmar Schacht, Franz von Papen and Hans Fritzsche, who were acquitted yesterday amid a storm of controversy, including a pointed dissent by the Russians, a complaint by American prosecutors that the first two should have been convicted, and a private expression by the British against the acquittals.

More Comfortable Quarters

All three men spent last night in the jail, but not in the tiny sequestered cells they had occupied during the long months of the trial. In more comfortable quarters they slept, protected by guards but permitted to move about freely. Mrs. Schacht visited her husband, the former German economics minister and Reichsbank president, for a time early last evening.

Attorneys for the three men arranged for proper papers for them and for transportation. They said each man had been instructed to return to his proper domicile.

This meant that the truculent Schacht, who yesterday uttered to trade his autograph for "candy bars during a wild news conference, probably could stay in the American zone, with several homes available. Suave old Franz von Papen has two Rhine estates in the British zone, or he could go to the French zone, where most of his relatives are living.

Fritzsche, the radio propagandist, must return to the Russian zone, where he had been a prisoner of war. Soviet Judge J. T. Nikitchenko said in his sharp dissent yesterday that Fritzsche should have been convicted as a war criminal.

The question of whether any, or all, of them would face action by German denazification boards still was unsettled. Fritzsche defiantly told yesterday's news conference that he hoped to go before such a board and clear his name with the German people.

Not for von Papen

Von Papen said he couldn't see any reason why he should have to do such a thing, and Schacht said belligerently he would wait for someone to accuse him before he offered any defense.

And it appeared he might have the chance. Dr. Wilhelm Hoegner, minister-president of Bavaria, said that any of the three acquitted men remaining in the American zone would be placed before a denazification board promptly, which he said would "certainly" mean "several years of hard labor."

Hoegner called the acquittal of von Papen "astounding," and said he thought of the greying diplomat as "a real instigator of the Third Reich."

In addition to the turmoil stirred up by the tribunal's acquittal of Schacht, von Papen, and Fritzsche, there was considerable questioning of the court's refusal to brand the German general staff and high command as criminal organizations. The Russian judge dissented from that refusal in strong language.

Legal officials in the American Military Government in Berlin said the Russian dissents from the acquittals, in the general staff issue and against the life sentence of Hess probably would mean there will be no more four-power war crimes trials in Germany.

They predicted future trials might be held on a zonal basis, with each occupying power conducting its own trials of prisoners in its custody.

It had been believed earlier that if a second international trial were held, the defendants likely would be German industrialists and financiers, but Justice Robert H. Jackson, head of the U. S. prosecution staff, said the Schacht acquittal put a new light on such prosecutions, and added that the tribunal's actions in the case of the general staff would raise similar "problems in trying other military."

County Chest X-ray Surveys to Start On October 7th

Plans are now complete for the coming chest X-ray survey to be conducted in the county by the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association on October 7, 8 and 9.

The TB Association has announced that on October 7 the seniors and teachers of Saugerties High School will be surveyed, starting at 9 a. m.

In the afternoon of the same day, the X-ray apparatus will be set up at the Kingston Health Center, 27 East O'Reilly street, to accommodate various groups—food handlers, barbers, beauticians and other interested individuals.

The Kingston survey to be conducted between the hours of 1:30 and 7 p. m., is to be under the sponsorship of the city board of health.

On October 8, residents of the township of Shandaken will be given advantage of the X-ray program. The survey in Phoenicia in St. Francis de Sales Hall starts at 9 a. m.

Wednesday, October 9, at 9 a. m., seniors and teachers of the Marlborough High School will be X-rayed. Other residents, farm and other employees, will be given the X-ray starting at 10:30 a. m. In the afternoon, seniors and teachers of the Wallkill High School as well as other individuals will be X-rayed.

After completion of the survey, X-rays will be read by specialists and a report sent to every person X-rayed. Those with chest abnormalities as seen in the X-ray will be asked to consult their family physician. All reports are confidential.

This program will be financed entirely by the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association through the sale of Christmas Seals.

Veterans Engage Shep Fields Band For Oct. 25 Ball

SHEP FIELDS

Chairman William Jordan of Joyce-Schick Post, 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars entertainment and music committee for the annual ball in the municipal auditorium, Friday night, October 25, today announced that he had signed Shep Fields to play for the event.

Jordan was highly elated over signing Shep Fields and his music which has found its place in the favor of the dancing public and promises to become even more popular than his famous "rippling rhythm."

Billed as "The only band of its kind in the world," the new Fields combination consists of nine saxophones and woodwinds with the usual rhythm section—piano, drums, guitar and bass. The complete elimination of trumpets and trombones, was regarded as a daring experiment in the music world, but the success of the new style seems to have justified Shep Fields' theory.

Although the blare and blasting of brass is not present, the band has as much drive and power as any other group, fitting its volume into the size of the room.

The saxophone men double on 45 different instruments, mostly woodwinds, obtaining coloring and blends which are not possible in standard instrumentation, and which prevent the music from becoming monotonous. Fields has estimated that there are 3,000 possible combinations with his new orchestra, as against several hundred in usual dance band set-ups.

However, before he could secure specific information from the government, he wrote, it would require formal authority from the mayor to the effect that the city was desirous to replace the cannons taken in the scrap drive.

He asked that the aldermen take some action in the matter. The communication was referred to the building and supply committee.

At the meeting of the Common Council Tuesday evening a request was received from the society for the use of the municipal auditorium and the council chambers in the city hall for January 29, 30 and 31.

The request was referred to the building and supply committee.

Commerce Group Studies 3 Problems

Solicitations Control. Zoning Program. Community Chest on Agenda

The Retail Committee of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce met last night for further discussion on a solicitation control program, a study of the proposed zoning program and to investigate the feasibility of setting up a community chest.

The committee headed by chairman Harry Rigby, Jr. presented voluminous data on the organization of a community chest secured from national organizations that have successfully conducted such campaigns.

No definite decision was made relative to a community chest for Kingston but a sub-committee was appointed to screen more carefully the vast amount of data and report at a meeting of the retailers October 15. If the recommendations are accepted at that time, the data will be turned over to the specific agencies that would directly benefit from such a community chest.

The Chamber of Commerce would offer its facilities to assist in organizing the community chest group but after organization, maintenance of the program would be a responsibility of the agencies involved.

Members of the sub-committee appointed to further study the

Wadlin Addresses
Lions on Statutes
Assemblyman Outlines
Procedure Followed in Legislature

Assemblyman John F. Wadlin spoke to members of the Kingston Lions Club Tuesday at their weekly meeting, outlining the manner in which laws are written on the statute books of the state. Mr. Wadlin told of the necessary procedure and the manner in which a bill, once introduced, goes through its course of being read once, sent to committee or reported for a second and third reading and finally put to a vote and either passed to become law or defeated.

In his talk he called upon all citizens to take an active interest in the legislative affairs of their county. "A government is designed to serve the people, not to direct their lives, except to curb them so in pursuing their happiness they do not offend the rights and happiness of others," Mr. Wadlin said.

Assemblyman Wadlin pointed out how the citizen can be of assistance in helping the legislators carry out a proper and sufficient program of legislation and asked that all familiarize themselves with the matter of legislation and give careful consideration to legislation which may be offered by their representatives.

"It is important that we evaluate ourselves and our institutions daily. Then take a stand," said Mr.

Wadlin. "One way for you to find out if our government is worthwhile is to have the office holders tell you what they do and understand what they are doing. Then you can take a course."

Mr. Wadlin said he had been one of the representatives of the people of Ulster county for six years as a member of the New York State Assembly, that it was a matter of pride to be a small part of a government which was so close to the people. He pointed out that in the writing of all laws the desires of the majority was always considered. Any law, he pointed out, could not meet with the approval of all but an effort was always made to meet the desires of the constituents. Only one way can make this plan work and that is by contact between the people and the legislators. A real service can be rendered by the citizens, that of letting legislators know their stand on any pending legislation and only in this manner is it possible for any legislator to know the desires of the people whom he is elected to represent. Mr. Wadlin asked for this type of co-operation from Ulster county voters.

Nowhere in his message did Hull refer to the post-victory developments specifically troubling international relations, to the atomic bomb, or to the disputes between the western powers and those in the immediate zone of Soviet interest.

Hull's associates said that the former secretary had worked on the statement for nearly half of the 20 days he has spent in the hospital. He completed it before he was stricken.

Condition Unchanged

Washington, Oct. 2 (AP)—Former Secretary of State Cordell Hull's condition was described as "essentially unchanged" today.

A 5 a. m. Navy Department bulletin on the retired cabinet member, ill at Bethesda Naval Hospital, said:

"Mr. Hull rested very well during the latter part of the night, his condition is essentially unchanged."

Hull, for 12 years, President Roosevelt's secretary of state, has been described as seriously ill. It was the 75th birthday of the man who also guided the State Department for the first three years of World War 2.

A light brain hemorrhage Monday night left him partly paralyzed and semi-conscious.

Milk, Butter, Cheese
Come in for Scrutiny

Washington, Oct. 2 (AP)—Prices of milk, butter and cheese came in for their third scrutiny today as O.P.A. boosted ceilings on a variety of items ranging from chocolate to house paints.

Meanwhile those who eat their meals in restaurants, hotels and other public eating places learned that all meat servings soon will cost more. O.P.A. planned to announce just how much more later this week.

The new examination of dairy prices was before a closed session of the Price Control Board. Its three members twice before have decided to leave all dairy products free of price lids, the last time on September 20.

The panel met today for the first time since then.

A 27 percent increase in manufacturers' ceilings on chocolate, cocoa and many other chocolate products became effective today. O.P.A. said this increase would be passed along to consumers as soon as new supplies are received at the higher prices.

O.P.A. said the increase resulted chiefly from a 585 cent a pound boost in the import ceiling for raw cocoa beans which resulted from rising world prices.

The newest price increases announced by O.P.A. are on eight kinds of paints and on fabrics made from wool or rayon mixed with cotton.

O.P.A. said the higher paint ceilings, laid to boosts in the cost of linseed oil, would run four to 17 cents a gallon more for manufacturers with resellers passing on the increases plus usual profits.

The agency said the fabric increases will average about one to two cents a yard.

Lung Cancer Is Subject of Parley
At Buffalo Today

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP)—A possibility of women getting lung cancer from smoking was discussed today at the medical symposium of the University of Buffalo centennial by Dr. William F. Riehnhoff, Jr., associate professor of surgery, Johns Hopkins University.

"Men he said, have about six times more frequent cancer of the lungs than women. The reason for the extra male cancers is not definitely known."

"It will be interesting," Dr. Riehnhoff said, "now that women are smoking, to see if the much higher rate of the malignancy of the lung in men is decreased by an increase in the incidence in women."

Dr. Owen Wagenseen of the University of Minnesota said that one woman in five past 40 is destined to die of cancer and one man in six past 50. He urged that cancer detection clinics be set up and that all men and women learn to go to one of these clinics about three times each year.

"Indifference and inertia," he declared, "are far more to be feared than the hazard of stirring up phobias of cancer."

Washington said that cancer of the stomach is the most frequent of all malignancies and that by the time these cancers are noticed only twenty five per cent can be operated upon by surgery. The others dies without a chance, he said.

The formal contract between the government and the Wright brothers for the first Army plane was signed in 1908.

Police Seek Information On Hagan's Effects

Montreal, Oct. 2 (AP)—Police sought yesterday information concerning the whereabouts of personal effects of Charles Raymond Hagan of Yonkers, N. Y., who collapsed and died at Union and Belmont streets September 20.

Homicide squad officers said it was known that Hagan rented a room somewhere in the city during his stay here. Hagan's body was sent to his home following a coroner's jury verdict of "natural death."

In a communication received by police Monday, Dr. Amos Squire, coroner of Westchester, N. Y. county, said his autopsy showed Hagan died of a cerebral hemorrhage caused by a blow or a fall.

K. C. Ball Looks Like Best to Date, Stars Blue Barron

Ticket Sales Indicate That Auditorium Will Be Filled for Social on Oct. 14th

The 25th Annual Charity Ball of Kingston Council, 275, Knights of Columbus, scheduled for the night of Monday, October 14, in the municipal auditorium, featuring Blue Barron's band and an all-star show, gives promise of being the biggest and best of any like social affair ever promoted by the "Casseys."

Chairman Andrew T. Gilday has expressed extreme satisfaction over reports from his various committees, members of which are bending their efforts to make the ball a success. Allen A. Baker, who heads the patron ticket committee said his list surpasses those of previous years, and the general ticket sale is progressing satisfactorily. Indications are that the attendance will be the greatest in the organization's history.

Not content with the great line-up of entertainment that he already has under contract, Chairman Joseph J. Murphy of the entertainment committee is negotiating agents for several top notch vaudeville acts. Signed to date by Chairman Murphy's committee are the famous Blue Barron's Orchestra, Bob Kennedy, of the stage show "Oklahoma," The Mack Triplets of Phil Spitalny's Hour of Charm, Lou Folds, comedian juggler, and Marilyn and Martinez dance stylists.

Deputy Grand Knight Joseph J. Saccoccia has been named chairman of the decorations committee and states that the auditorium will be gaily decorated to meet the festive mood of the occasion.

Joe Murphy, chairman of the music committee when contacted today for a statement on the entertainment for the ball was very enthusiastic when he said, "the welcome mat has been spread on handstands throughout the country many times for Blue Barron and his orchestra. It never has been placed with more enthusiasm than at our own municipal auditorium on October 14."

Barron was a definite must on my programming, stated chairman Murphy. "He's been booked so solidly that I had despaired of getting him this year, but luckily fate played my way."

"Dancers in every quarter," Murphy continued, "have become increasingly aware of the value

President Praises Chest, U.S.O. Drives

Washington, Oct. 2 (AP)—President Truman backed the $170,000,000 Community Chest Campaign today, declaring it represents "the very elements of unity" toward which the United Nations are "patiently striving."

Appealing for "prompt, wholehearted and universal support" of the chest fund drives as well as the U.S.O., the President said in a nationwide radio talk last night.

Let us set an example for the rest of the world in community cooperations.

Mr. Truman said he personally had asked the U.S.O. to continue its work through 1947 because it is needed by "our people still engaged in the unfinished business of the war."

of melody and brilliant tonal effects as displayed by Blue Barron's audiences and demands for return engagements, have besieged Blue wherever he and his outfit played, indicating that his theory of creating music for the American public is definitely what it wants. Realizing that there are many by-gone favorites still in the dancing public's memory, Barron includes quite a few nostalgic airs as well as current hits in his programs. Blue's choice of a vocal melody minded public too, for Clyde Burke has been collecting new fans with his vocalizing."

Staten Island Bus Men Go on Strike

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—Four hundred drivers and maintenance men of the Isle Transportation Corporation, which serves 50,000 persons daily on all 24 bus routes on Staten Island, struck today in a wage dispute.

The men, members of Local 726, C.I.O. Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric and Motor Coach Employees of America, are seeking a wage raise of 20 cents an hour which would bring wages to $1.25 for a 48-hour, six-day week.

Charles Curtis, president of the Local, said the company had refused for six weeks to submit the dispute to arbitration.

There was no immediate comment from company officials.

An estimated 30,000 of the company's passengers are commuters to New York's other boroughs and 20,000 are local passengers.

The men last night rejected requests from Edward C. Maguire, director of Mayor William O'Dwyer's Bureau of Labor Relations, that the strike be postponed for three days.

The company at present operates under a temporary franchise granted by the Public Service Commission but has applied for a permanent franchise and Public Service Commission hearings on the applications now are being held.

Answers Provided For Complexities In Broadway Hit

"Do you tell the clubhouse gang that you wear the pants in your house and then return home to submit meekly to distaff domination?"

Do your sons suffer from puppy love and do you give them advice that always turns sour?

Or maybe you think the kids are getting too much spending money, or daughter or mother could have postponed buying that new hat?

You may find the answer to these typical American family problems in the richly humorous and philosophical script of the Broadway comedy hit "Life With Father."

The road version of this "Public Entertainment No. 1" is scheduled for a Kingston showing, Saturday, October 5, at the Kingston High School auditorium under the sponsorship of the Kingston Lions Club.

The entire net proceeds will go toward the Sight Conservation Fund of the Lions Club. Present plans call for the establishment of a sight conservation room in Kingston High School so that all school children of the city can take advantage of the clinic.

Sight conservation has been one of the major projects sponsored by Lions International. The local performance of "Life With Father" is expected to swell the fund for that worthy project.

"Life With Father," adapted for the stage by Russell Crouse and Howard Lindsay from the original novel by Clarence Day, has established its niche as one of the greatest plays in American theatre history. It is now in its second year on Broadway and has been surpassed in longevity only by the immortal hit of pre-war New York, "Abe's Irish Rose."

Officials of the Kingston Lions Club say that they are gratified by the early demand for tickets. It appears likely that capacity audiences will witness the matinee and evening shows of this great American classic.

This special road show is produced by the New York theatrical firm of Cargill, Kling and Jones by special arrangement with the original producer, Oscar Serlin. A highly competent cast has been selected for the road version.

A real theatrical treat is in store for Kingston theatre goers. This comedy of an American home has proved so real and so laugh-provoking that newspapers across the land have given it lavish praise. More than seven million persons have seen "Life With Father" since its premiere November 8, 1939.

Meetings between company and union representatives and U. S. mediators, in progress all day yesterday, were scheduled to resume today. Groves Says War Would End if Bomb Abandoned weapon would mean the abandonment of all war. Maj. Gen. Leslie Groves, Manhattan district atomic bomb project director, declared yesterday at a press conference here.

Oak Ridge, Tenn., Oct. 2 (AP)—Abandoning the atom bomb as a

Referring to the Bernard M. Baruch report before the United Nations Atomic Control Committee, the general said his statement "depends upon whether we can reach such an international agreement for control of the bomb." Also present at the press conference was Maj. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, superintendent of West Point, who said he knew of no plans to incorporate the study of atomic energy into the military academy's curriculum.

Burrone-Matthews Scrap to Feature Thursday's Bill

Battle of Kayo Punchers Set for Local Arena: Interest Spreads to Catskill Fans

One of the most attractive boxing cards ever presented in Kingston is the ring program arranged by B'nai B'rith for Thursday, October 3 at 9 p. m. in the Kingston Municipal Auditorium, according to Dr. Saul Goldfarb, the organization's boxing chairman.

There are seven bouts on the card, featuring Tony Burrone, Schenectady welterweight and Buddy Matthews, New York city knockout puncher.

Burrone outpointed Clarence Alleyne, New York Golden Gloves champion in one Kingston appearance, then knocked out Joe Frasca of Rome in 1:41 of the second round in another.

Matthews polished off Tony Genovese, New England champion, from Boston, in the third round on the last fight card here. He has won his last 10 matches via the kayo route.

Other five rounders: Ike Flagg, New York, vs. Jimmy Mario, Albany, welter; Roosevelt Flagg, Albany, vs. Osborne Lawrence, New York, lightweight; Tommy Baker, Gloversville, vs. Percy Wilson, New York featherweight.

Three rounders: Cliff Smith, Newburgh, vs. Carl Barney, Albany, middleweight; Frankie Alvarez, Schenectady, vs. Jimmy Foster, Albany, bantamweight; Al Jones, Catskill, vs. Frank Maurer, Schenectady, lightweight.

Dr. Murray Greene, ticket chairman for B'nai B'rith, announced today that the ticket sale for the Burrone-Matthews show has been unusually heavy. "Besides the heavy demand for choice reserved seats here in Kingston," Dr. Greene commented, "there is another large request for tickets up in Catskill."

Some reserved seats for Thursday's fight bill may still be obtained at the B'nai B'rith Lodge on Wall street.

Top Football Leaders

New York, Oct. 2 (AP)—Passin' Bob Thomson of Virginia Military Institute tops the country's college football leaders in total offense and forward passing, the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau disclosed today in reporting statistics for the first two weeks of the 1946 season. Thomson, with a total of 292 yards in 39 carries and an additional 242 yards on passes, thus takes over temporarily the No. 1 spot formerly occupied by Bob Fenimore of Oklahoma A. & M., the nation's total offensive leader two years in a row. Fenimore at this stage ranks fifth in total offense and fourth in forward passing.

Andy Points for Yale

Hamilton, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP)—Andy Kerr, Colgate grid coach, is pointing his Red Raiders' offensive for their opener at New Haven Saturday against a strong Yale eleven. Snow, rain and cold forced the Raiders inside yesterday but Kerr sent them through a stiff offensive drill as he sought definite starters for the quarterback and left end posts.

Peg From Right Field Did Trick, Dyer Thinks; Rookie Also Big Gun

En route to Brooklyn, Oct. 2 (AP)—Howie Pollet's heady pitching job against Brooklyn appears to have aroused the sluggish St. Louis Cardinals to a World Series pitch that could send them flying past the Dodgers in two straight ball games.

Nobody on the ball club is making predictions about what will happen at Ebbets Field when baseball's first three-game playoff series resumes tomorrow, but the Red Birds are a loose, confident ball club after their 4-2 opening win at St. Louis yesterday.

Enos Slaughter's great peg from right field that rimmed Bruce Edwards trying to go from first to third on Howie Schultz's seventh inning single probably saved the ball game. At least Manager Eddie Dyer of the Red Birds thinks it did.

Three hits by rookie catcher Joe Garagiola who drove in half the winners' runs was another highly important factor in the all-important first game win.

Not Since Boston

Not since the Cards left Boston September 19 had they taken heart from a hitting attack like they showed the Brooks' five pitchers. Only Don Musial's seventh-inning triple was for extra bases but there were hits at timely points.

Pollet's perfect performance provided the big lift in the Cards' success and must have been disheartening to the Brooks who had taken heart from the news that the Cubs had knocked out the ace outpitcher in his last two previous starts.

The psychological effect of the left-hander's return to his mid-season form was even more important than the win itself. It showed the Red Birds that their No. 1 boy was himself again and assured them in their own minds they were the same club that had been able to take Brooklyn all season.

Selection Backfires

Manager Durocher's selection of Ralph Branca to hurl the vital opener backfired when the Birds combed him for six hits and three runs before he gave way to Kirby Higbe in the third. Branca had shut out St. Louis last time he faced them and had pitched another fine game against them earlier in the season.

The Dodger manager paraded most of his starting staff from the bullpen to the hill before it was over. Following Higbe with Hal Gregg, Vic Lombardi and finally Rube Melton. The notable exception was Joe Hatten, likely nominee for tomorrow's second game.

Warmth and Sunshine

Brooklyn, Oct. 2 (AP)—The weatherman said today that warmth and sunshine would envelop Brooklyn tomorrow for the second game in the Dodger-Cardinals National League pennant playoff. Good weather also is promised for Friday, when the third game, if necessary, will be played.

Outdoor Bout Canceled

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP)—A planned outdoor bout between Willie Brown, Hartford, Conn. world featherweight boxing champion, and a local contender, Resnick, Pa., was canceled today because of a heavy rain and cold. The bout was to have taken place at the Kingston Municipal Auditorium last night.

American U. Says Football Is 20th Century Slave Mart

President Says It Costs $50,000 to Put Good Team on Field at Today's Rates

Washington, Oct. 2 (AP)—Two officials of American University (enrollment 3,850) blew a loud whistle on college football today. They said it's a 20th century slave mart.

They declared the players are knocked down to the highest bidder as human chattels who "surrendered their complete freedom to the coaches, today's slave drivers."

President Paul F. Douglass estimated it would cost his school $50,000 to field a decent team at current prices. And he isn't going to do it.

"Instead," he said in a statement, "we intend to spend that money to enlarge our art and music schools."

Echoed Robert V. Fletcher, chairman of the board of trustees: "Postwar college football has no more relation to education than bull fighting to agriculture."

The university stopped playing football in 1941. What brought up the current furor was the decision by university officials that they can continue to get along without it very well.

Human Slave Market

"A human slave market extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Canada especially to Alabama," Douglass said.

"Day by day young men come to the auction block for sale to the highest bidder. The bidding is bitter, determined, violent and unscrupulous."

"The country is ridden by agents and scouts directed by coaches who receive salaries higher than university presidents."

He said that under the system football players exist as an "alien colony without the student body, adored for their mighty deeds but with purpose unrelated to educational ideals."

Ceilings Are Raised

The G. I. Bill of Rights "raised the ceilings of maintenance" for these hapless thralls, Douglass went on. He explained:

"In addition to the tuition, books, and subsistence payments of the Veterans Administration, the football players acquired at prevailing market prices receive upwards from victuals, room, clothes and movie money, salaries and benefits sometimes reaching to $200 a month."

Douglass said American U. will continue basketball as its major intercollegiate sport.

D.S.—American won the Mason-Dixon Conference cage championship for the last two seasons.

Keeshin Sues Halas

For $250,000 Damages

Chicago, Oct. 2 (AP)—John L. Keeshin, owner of the Chicago Rockets football team, has filed suit in Circuit Court here against George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears, charging him with libel and asking $250,000 damages.

The suit was the outgrowth of comment allegedly made by Halas concerning Keeshin's effort to sign Sid Luckman, Bear quarterback and Coach coach.

Halas said last night in a statement that he had been "advised that the suit had been filed, but I haven't seen a copy of the complaint and I have referred the matter to my attorneys."

Montgomery to Fight

Philadelphia, Oct. 2 (AP)—Bob Montgomery, lightweight champion (N.Y.-Pa. version), will defend his title October 28 at Convention Hall against Wesley Mounzon, who knocked out Montgomery in their non-title bout here August 19.

REDBIRD REACHES THIRD

REDS NEW MANAGER

Johnny Neun (above), a member of the New York Yankee baseball organization for the past 14 years, was appointed manager of the Cincinnati Reds for 1947. Warren C. Giles, Reds' general manager, announced in Cincinnati.

Indians' Acquisition Hailed by Cleveland

Cleveland, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians' acquisition of gray-haired Bill McKechnie, recently resigned manager of the Cincinnati Reds, to bolster their coaching staff was hailed today as the first spark of strategy to blast the tribe out of the second division.

McKechnie's signing of a two-year contract at an undisclosed figure was announced last night by Indian President Bill Veeck. Greatly disappointed by his club's sixth-place finish this season, Veeck had said he was ready to trade virtually all his players except Pitcher Bob Feller and Manager Lou Boudreau.

The Deacon ended a 24-year managerial career when he resigned September 22 as pilot of the Reds. He said he was quitting "because I feel it advisable to have the matter settled at this time so both the club and myself could make definite plans for the future."

The Reds' general manager, Warren C. Giles, said it was "in the best interests of all."

During his 24 years as a manager, McKechnie piloted two teams to world championships—the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1925 and the St. Louis Cardinals in 1926. During his nine years with the Reds, the Cincinnati team won the National League pennant in 1939 and 1940, finished in the second division only twice.

Williams Says He'll Play for Sox in Series

Boston, Oct. 2 (AP)—Bang on the elbow or no bang on the elbow Ted Williams vows he'll play for the Red Sox in the World Series.

The Boston slugger was clipped on the right joint yesterday by one of Mickey Haeffner's curves and a swelling about the size of a small egg developed.

X-ray plates showed no break but the club physician barred Ted from any more games in the current series against a team of American League Stars and added "red better wait a few days before making any predictions" about the World Series.

However Ted asserted after the exhibition game, in which the Sox took the Stars 2-0, "I'm gonna play in that series."

In the Rough

By Charlie Tiano

Wiltwyck Club's third annual Pro-Amateur tournament Sunday attracted a distinguished field and proved the old saw that "a pro is a pro and a duffer is a duffer—always." Tom Danaher did a great job of promotion and was able to corral nearly every outstanding pro and amateur in the region. . . . And just by way of showing that his official duties didn't completely undo his game, the home pro shot a 79.

Don't look now but that old geezer puffing down the No. 9 fairway on crutches and reeking with arnica is old man Alex Gerlak of Catskill. . . . Remember way back when Alex shot 70 as consistently as you brush your molars? . . . But Father Time takes his inevitable toll and poor Alex is all washed up, they told us before the tournament. . . . So he shoots 34 and 37 for a 71. . . . Gads, what could the man do if he didn't need so much liniment!

Tom McNamara, youthful looking Millbrook Country Club pro, who tied Gerlak for first place with 71, hits Wiltwyck in great style. . . . Incidentally did you notice that sixteen of the best pros around and a flock of topflight amateurs failed to equal par? . . . Everyone agreed that Wiltwyck is as exacting a par-70 layout as you'll find in these parts. . . . Dan Gormley, of the Albany Gormley golfing clan, blasted 71 to cop the amateur division and tie with the pros. . . . Dan qualified for the recent National Amateur. . . . He birdied No. 2 twice. . . . A nice fellow to have on your side. . . . We toured the last nine with Charlie De Stefano, College Hill pro of Poughkeepsie, and Hank Koval, Poughkeepsie city amateur champion. . . . Both shot superbly. . . . Koval hits dream shots off the tee. . . . The rangy, former Indiana state amateur kinglypin is almost a double for Carden Gillenwater, Boston Braves outfielder. . . . De Stefano, out with a 34 and even par up to 16th hole, double-bogied the 17th hole. . . . His first shot landed in a deep heel print and the genial Bridge City pro had to blast heavily. . . . Just another example that it's only common courtesy to smooth out the traps when you leave. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burnett and Billy Newkirk also trailed the De Stefano-Koval contingent. . . . A pleasant way to develop an inferiority complex, we agreed. . . . Charlie reported that 20,000 persons have paid green fees at College Hill so far this season.

We saw a few seige guns in action but yard for yard, Walt Thiel of Twaalfskill, hits with any of them. . . . Dick Baxter, an old crony of Tom Danaher, came down from Williamstown, Mass. . . . He was accompanied by H. Hewitt, who happened to be the oldest performer in the tourney. . . . Baxter shot a pair of 40s, while Mr. Hewitt posted 44-40-84. . . . Dan Gormley, the amateur winner, cracked his 71 the first time he ever saw the course.

Very much in sight: Dick Osterhoudt, former Kingston star now playing out of Catskill. . . . Dick, a bit grayer and more corpulent than the last time we saw him, paired with Gerlak. . . . Dick Danaher was not available for comment after his 89. . . . Joe Ruzas, former New York state Public Links champion, out of Albany, faded after an opening 35 to gross 75. . . . Dick Danaher renewed acquaintances with Len Barkley for the second time in a week. . . . Both were assigned to the 3rd Army in the ETO and competed in the 7th Army's golf tournament in Paris a year ago. . . . That tournament, incidentally, was won by Lloyd Mangrum, current P.G.A. champion.

Among the spectators were Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Laurie of Albany. . . . Mr. Laurie formerly operated the Stayvans Hotel. . . . He said he knew about the current "excitement" at the uptown hotel. . . . Bill Ingalls presided at the scoreboard. . . . Bill's figures are the nearest you'll ever find outside of a print shop. . . . His bowling score tabulations are classic examples of how to keep score—properly. . . . Ed Remmert's 79 led the local amateur contingent, with Watts Bailey, Junior Wonderly and John Van Gonsic a stroke behind. . . . Law Weatherwax, an intercollegiate champion while at Yale, had an 81. . . . Koval, of Poughkeepsie, missed four putts by less than two inches. . . . All four would have been birdies.

We noticed one thing the pros take their time on EVERY shot. . . . The average duffer steps up to an iron shot and wham, he's on his way to a 9. . . . Not so with the fellows who play for keeps. . . . With them it's a serious proposition and they play it that way.

By Way of Bowling: The bowling season is in full swing. . . . Emil Garbarino, Middletown ace, shoots 104 in Poughkeepsie. . . . Johnny Ferraro blows a spare in the 10th frame to lose a game. . . . Jones Dairy No. 2 takes a pair from Jones Dairy No. 1 in Hudson Valley competition, proving that figures do lie. . . . Memo to Johnny Ferraro: See Marty Kellenberger for instructions on how to convert the "5-9" spare.

Better Golf

By SAM SNEAD

3. Today I want to emphasize a point that many players lose sight of. It is that the hip pivot calls for a quarter-turn and the shoulder pivot calls for a half turn. In other words, at the top of a full swing your shoulders are "facing" the hole. To pivot more than this causes any but a very expert player a loss of balance and, in turn, lack of rhythm and timing. Remember that that clubhead must get back to the ball at the correct mechanical instant. If you over-pivot and as a result, over-swing, it is extremely difficult to get that clubhead back to the ball at the instant when the hip and shoulder pivots, the downswing of the arms and the wrist-lash which you pour in during the last third of the downstroke, have produced the maximum, controlled velocity you can give to that clubhead. It is the blending of the above named forces in to a single force at impact and applied with a slightly misdirected swing that delivers maximum distance. Never swing

Laurel Park Is Ready
Laurel, Md., Oct. 2 (AP)—Laurel Park was ready today to open its 25-day racing program after the Maryland Racing Commission and the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association settled a dispute to end a boycott of the state's tracks. Today's opening marked the beginning of a new chapter in Maryland's turf history since, for the first time, a pre-race biological test to check up on stimulations will be required of all contestants.

Culloton Lists 15 Players for Game At Stadium Sunday

Manager Expects His Nine to Offer Stiff Test for Joe DiMaggio's All-Star Squad

A roster including 15 well-known players from Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and Kingston was announced this morning by Manager Bernard "Bud" Culloton for Sunday's big baseball attraction at municipal stadium when the Hudson Valley Stars engage Joe DiMaggio's All Stars.

Culloton, who will direct the Valley lineup with able assistance from Jimmy Morgan and Carlie Husta, has a squad listing five infielders, five outfielders, two catchers and three pitchers.

"I'm delighted to be able to work with this group of players from the Hudson Valley," Manager Culloton commented today when announcing his powerful unit. "All of the players are well tested and shouldn't show any uneasy traits when opposing the big leaguers." "You know," Culloton added, "that's long been the trouble in some exhibitions when semi-pros tackle big league material. They get stage fright. But I don't think this aggregation will. I look for them to give DiMaggio's club a tough battle all the way."

Is on Squad

ERNIE DOWNER

Culloton's confidence in his squad appears well placed when considering the make-up of the Hudson Valley lineup. Austin Knickerbocker, the Toronto Mapleleaf outfielder; Billy Ostrom, Vinnie Crawford, "Red" Schlessinger, Ernie Downer, Charlie Neff, and Bill Windburn were the new acquisitions to the club yesterday. Knickerbocker, who played the outfield for the International League team this summer, will report to the Philadelphia Athletics next spring. He is from Clinton Corners and a good portion of fans from that area is expected to follow him here to Kingston for the game.

"My infield combination looks pretty strong," Culloton remarked today when he named Billy "The Kid" Ostrom, first; Vinnie Crawford; second; Andy Celuch or Nick Miglio, third; and "Red" Schlessinger, short.

The outfield will comprise Knickerbocker, Ernie Downer and either Charlie Neff, Howie Havens or Ettore Giammaro. The latter two are from Newburgh who have been playing bang-up semi-pro ball this summer. All are good hitters and adequate on defense.

With Westrum and George Zadany holding down the catching berths, the Valley team appears strong on paper at least for a well-balanced staff. Westrum is home fresh from a successful season with Jacksonville of the Sally League while Zadany has completed a good year in the local City League.

Three pitchers—John "Whitey" Tulacz, Warren Muller, ex-Hartford Senator tosser; and Bill Windburn—are on Culloton's mound staff. "No explanation is needed for Tulacz' ability. He's a real veteran and should be tough for DiMaggio's club. Muller comes here with a fine record while Windburn looks very promising."

Will Broadcast Series
Fred Davi, promoter of Sunday's attraction at the stadium, said this morning that baseball fans who attend the game also will hear a play-by-play of the first World Series game between the Boston Red Sox and the winner of the present St. Louis-Brooklyn playoff series. "Facilities will be arranged at the stadium so that fans will hear the real broadcast of every play," Davi asserted.

KHS '11' History

By IRWIN J. THOMAS

This is the eleventh in a series of articles presenting an over-all picture of past records made by Kingston High School football players from 1915 up to the present day. Kingston's second DUSO League championship team, 1936, is the subject of this article.

Kingston High School racked up its second DUSO League football championship in 1936, three years after the school's initial pennant-winning club of 1933. The 1936 squad reeled off a record of 10 wins and two losses.

Tommy Maines, who snapped his first DUSO League title in the Port Jervis game of 1936, returned to action during the 1936 campaign and proved to be the number one ball carrier for the Maroon and White squad.

Captain Don Murphy, Harry Wilber and Bill Meagher were the other big guns in Kingston's ball-carrying brigade.

Unleashing an early scoring attack which moved 152 yards for a touchdown in only eight plays, Kingston opened its second DUSO League championship season with a shutout Liberty eleven. Maines went off for the only score of the game in a plunge from the four yard line.

Kingston 38, Poughkeepsie 0.

The Klammer hooked into Coach Kelly's Poughkeepsie gridders the following week and turned up their second straight victory, 38 to 0. Kingston walked all over the Bridge City team by registering its first downs to Poughkeepsie's five and piled up a total yardage gain of 333 to 110.

Tommy Maines led the local pigskinners down the glory road by ringing up three touchdowns. Captain Don Murphy, Harry Wilber and Jimmy Ashdown also contributed to the Maroon tallying fund. Maines' work for the afternoon was of sort wherein he raced 33 and 36 yards for two touchdowns.

Kingston's third game of the 1936 season with Mt. Pleasant of Schoenady was called off due to inclement weather.

Maines Stars Again

Kingston opened the DUSO League competition the following week in successful style by tripping Port Jervis, 25 to 0. It was Tommy Maines again who led the Maroon eleven to victory by scoring two touchdowns. Sharing the touchdown glory with Maines was George Rifenburg, Maroon center, who also crossed Port's chalklines on two occasions to complete the rout.

Bill Meagher, Kingston's full-back, also had a big part in the first league win by coming through with eye-filling gallops of 45 and 38 yards respectively. Bill set up the first Maroon score when he knifed through to Port's 21-yard line.

Middletown Upsets Applecart

Kingston's hopes for an undefeated season received a sharp setback November 7, 1936, when Ray Rodd and other members of Middletown's crack team battered a 19 to 0 win. Middletown capitalized on every Maroon blunder and struck when the opportunity presented itself.

Dodd, one of DUSO League's best all-around backs in history, personally took charge of the outcome as he reeled off runs of 37 and 45 yards to dampen the hearts of Maroon followers. Dodd crashed over for the other score on a plunge from the three.

Coach Kias's gridiron representatives dropped their second straight game of 1936 the next week when Norwich High invaded the Fair Grounds and struggled through to a 6-0 decision. The winning six points were tallied in the final stanza when Lee Morris clicked off a scoring run of 40 yards.

Beat Newburgh for Title

The hot DUSO League pennant chase went right up until the Annual Thanksgiving Day tilt, November 26, 1936, when Kingston, recovering from two straight setbacks, rallied itself and turned back Newburgh, 6-3. Kingston's vital triumph and Port Jervis' big upset over Middletown, 6-0, gave the title to the Maroons.

Kingston pushed over the only score of the game early in the tilt when Harry Wilber ripped through a big hole in Newburgh's line and dashed 17 yards for the touchdown standing up.

Ed Pilus, another star of bygone years in DUSO League rivalry, gave Newburgh its only three points of the fracas when he booted a 30-yard field goal in the last few minutes of the second period.

Three Maroon stars—George Rifenburg, center; Bob Delaney, guard; and Tommy Maines, back; were selected on The Freeman ALL-DUSO squad in 1936.

Kingston's pennant-winning ball club of 1936 included Arnold Nyulassy, Lou Volight, Arnold Denedini, George Rifenburg, Bob Delaney, Bill Von Essen, Carl and Bill Studer, Captain Don Murphy, Harry Wilber, Tommy Maines, Bill Meagher, Kenney, Bill Powers, Glidley, Irv Friedman, Decker, Jimmy Ashdown, Jack Halstein and Ray Schneider.

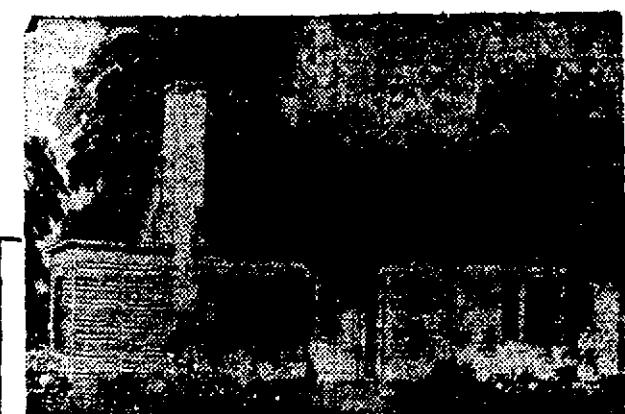

Boston Yanks Lose

Boston, Oct. 2 (AP)—Outclassed by the strong New York Giants, the Boston Yanks lost their National Football League opener to the visitors 17-0 before 16,500 chilled fans at Braves Field. Ken Strong who has been playing football for 10 years has been playing football for 10 years has been playing football for 10 years.

Bill Meagher, Kingston's full-back, also had a big part in the first league win by coming through with eye-filling gallops of 45 and

Independent League

Although dropping two games Monday night at the Central Rec alleys, the Stone Ridge Firemen remained in first place in the Independent League standings with a record of eight victories and four setbacks. Cole's Market, Beicherts, Vogel's Dairy and Callanans are all tied for second place with 7-5 records so far.

Grünwald Pounds 235

Charlie Grünwald, veteran kegger of the city, took over the limelight this week when he pounded out a 235 single and 637 series for Vogel's Dairy as they trounced Beicherts in two games. Grünwald opened with his 235 and came back with 220 and 182. Ernie Vogel and Leo Everett aided the victors with 538 and 528 triples. Marks hit 511 for Beicherts.

Freeman League

Powered by Tom LaPolt's new league high single score of 238, Team 1 took over undisputed possession of first place in The Freeman League this week by walloping Team 4 in three straight games. LaPolt blazed his 238 solo in the midway game after polishing the pins for a 189 opener. He wound up with 132 for a 559 triple. Charlie Derrenbacher's 447 triple and 161 singleton sparked the losers as they proceeded to lose their eighth game in nine starts.

Team 3 kept to within one full game of Team 1 by registering a pair of wins over Team 2. Milfred Buddenhagen's 486 three-timer paced the winners while Knute Beichert slammed out 518 for Team 2. Beichert's 211 single in the opening game was high for the league until LaPolt blasted his 238.

Rooney Denies He Has Made Offer

Also, Washington Post Assures Blanchard It Is Not Kidding

Pittsburgh, Oct. 2 (AP)—Art Rooney, head of the Pittsburgh Steeler National Football League team, says he has been promised a chance to bid for the services of Felix (Doc) Blanchard should he decide to play pro football but denies he has made the army full-back any fabulous offer.

A Washington Post story yesterday said Rooney had offered Blanchard $20,000 to $30,000 a year, a bonus of $10,000 and a three-year medical scholarship at the University of Pittsburgh.

At West Point, the U. S. Military Academy said each cadet signs up for eight years—four at the academy and four in the army—and that only in rare instances are cadets permitted to resign before completing the course.

New Jersey Sides Time

Trenton, N. J., Oct. 2 (AP)—New Jersey will not follow New York in increasing the price of milk one cent a quart unless the supply starts flowing out of the state, according to State Milk Control Director Arthur F. Foran. Should this happen, Foran said last night, "there would be no solution other than an increase to consumers so that the price to farmers can be increased."

Test Dynafuel in your car—see if it doesn't give

Smoother high-test action than premium-priced gasolines

... and you save up to 2¢ a gallon

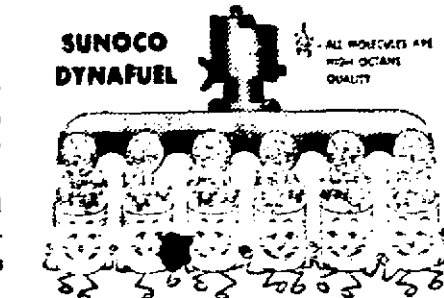

We believe no gasoline, even premium-priced, can match Dynafuel's incomparable smoothness

HERE'S WHY: ALL gasolines (including Sunoco Dynafuel) are composed of "light" and "heavy" molecules. As the gasoline goes into the cylinders from the carburetor, some of the "heavy" molecules separate from the rest of the gasoline and go to certain cylinders which get most of the "heavy" molecules, while other cylinders get mostly "light" molecules.

OTHER GASOLINES
In most other gasolines, the "heavy" molecules are low in octane quality... but the "light" molecules are high octane. The cylinders receiving the low grade "heavy" molecules do not receive the same high knockless quality as other cylinders.

IN SUNOCO DYNAFUEL, all molecules, both "heavy" and "light," deliver equally high octane power. No matter whether a cylinder receives "light" or "heavy" molecules that cylinder and all cylinders receive uniformly high knockless quality.

HIGH KNOCKLESS POWER • SWIFT ACCELERATION • UNEXCELLED LONG MILEAGE

Sentences on War Criminals Warn Future Aggressors

Editors Agree With Death Penalties, Jail Terms but Some Can't See Three Acquittals

(By The Associated Press)
The nation's press today almost unanimously hailed the results of the Nuernberg trials as the prime example of the "kind of justice we had hoped would prevail in a world in which free men had triumphed" and as confirming "a verdict long since returned by the judgment of outraged humanity."
Many editors viewed the death penalties meted out to 12 of the Nazi leaders and the long jail sentences given others as establishing a possible deterrent to future aggressors but others expressed misgivings regarding the acquittal of three of the defendants.
The four-nation tribunal, according to the New York Times "meted out what it was supposed to mete out—stern and exact justice, but justice, not vengeance. It has punished crime, it has refused to engage in an extermination campaign."
The New York Herald Tribune observed that it is "as foolish as it is irrelevant to say that this process will set up a precedent which will entitle some future victor to punish his victims. The new precedent which has been established is the precedent of a fair and just assessment of 'war guilt.'

The New York Daily News said "the trial and the verdicts were all based on the proposition that it is an international crime to start a war. That is something new in world history and this trial sets a precedent which should have some most interest consequences in future wars."
"The sum total of the Nuernberg decisions," said the New York Daily Mirror, "is that no country may dare hereafter to lose a war. The ruler, to survive personally, must win at any cost."
The Philadelphia Record said that "future aggressors will remember not the glory but the hangman's noose."

Hits Acquittals
In the same city The Inquirer commented that "in freeing von Papen, Schacht, and Fritzsche and showing mercy to other Nazi leaders with no grain of mercy in their souls the court has stopped short of complete justice for crimes that shook the world."

The Nuernberg sentencing, said the Omaha World Herald, "proved that representatives of four great allied powers can reach substantial agreement among themselves on matters of considerable importance and if they can cooperate to determine guilt of the Nazi gang, why can they not cooperate to achieve the equally positive and far more important goal of lasting peace?"

"It is not important really that Hitler and his criminals be dead," said the Atlanta Constitution, "what is important is that their philosophy and their teachings be dead. And we know they are not. What we must find guilty and kill is the Hitlerian idea."
Said the Chicago Tribune: "Russia, Britain, France and the United States, which sat in judgment on Germany, were all guilty of crimes against the peace. Some of them were accomplices in aggression, some were guilty of outright aggression and others—namely the United States under Roosevelt—plotted, planned, prepared and initiated aggressive war, even if the administration conceals the fact from the people."

'Big Hole' in Decision
The St. Louis Post Dispatch said "here may have been a court of new law, and at times doubtful law," but "one big hole in the decision of the tribunal is its failure to indict the German general staff. The Russian dissent is absolutely right."
Commented the Baltimore Evening Sun: "The verdicts achieve a certain rough justice. There will be some disposition to wonder at the acquittal of von Papen and Schacht, two of the slipperiest of those who had anything to do with the Hitler government."

Wilkes-Barre Has Teacher Problem

About 950 Pupils Receive Holiday Dispute Arises on Wages

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Oct. 2 (AP)—Approximately 950 pupils of the Wilkes-Barre township schools enjoyed their second day of an unscheduled vacation as 43 teachers remained away from classes today following a dispute with the school board over wage demands.
Ray Horan, assistant high school principal, said the teachers would not return until the board takes action on their demands for a $300 annual increase, immediate payment of back wages from April, with interest, and five days annual sick leave. No further meetings between the board and the teachers have been scheduled, Horan said.
School board members, while declining to comment on the walk-out, have stated the board is without funds to meet the demands of the teachers. A continual decrease in tax revenue from hard coal mines was blamed for the financial difficulties.

Ives Says Lehman Tries to Please Regulars, Leftists

His Opponent, He Says, Straddles Foreign Policy Issue in Campaign

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 2 (AP)—Former Gov. Herbert H. Lehman is trying to please both regular Democrats and left wingers by "straddling" the foreign policy issue, Irving M. Ives, his Republican opponent in the U. S. Senate race, asserts.

Ives said in a statewide radio broadcast last night that Lehman, senatorial nominee of the Democratic, American Labor and Liberal parties, had dodged taking a definite position on the side of Secretary of State James F. Byrnes or former Secretary of Commerce Henry Wallace.

Lehman endeavored to express his views on foreign policy in a speech last Saturday, Ives said, but "instead of a simple, forthright statement which would have left no doubt in anyone's mind of where he stands," the former governor "issued a shadow doctrine, vague and insecure, which has something to please each of the political organizations and splinter parties he represents in this campaign."

Ives accused Lehman of questioning his sincerity and that of the Republican party toward international cooperation and added:

"To question the sincerity of the integrity of either great party in its devotion to the cause of peace is to risk the unity of the American people on principles which affect our future and the very life of this nation."
Ives, Republican majority leader of the Assembly, reiterated his support of the United Nations and his advocacy of a strong American army, navy and air force.

Naval Officers Pleased With Results of Blast
Pocatello, Idaho, Oct. 2 (AP)—Satisfied with the controlled explosion of one-half million pounds of TNT, naval officers today planned additional blasts next week but none to compare with Tuesday's charge which sent a fire-red glow one-third of a mile high before it mushroomed into a towering black cloud.
Although other igloo-type magazines—containing an additional 1,500,000 pounds of explosives and located at varying distances from the blast center—failed to go off, the thick cement housings were cracked open.
Both army and navy observers said the blast served three purposes: Determining that the igloo-type magazines may be set as close as 200 feet apart, disposing of obsolete munitions and providing scientists with a measure for shock waves.
